Favre wins Bay Demo mayor slot

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis city clerk Edward (Eddie) Favre was certified as the winner over former mayor Larry J. Bennett in the Democratic Primary Election held Tuesday.

The Bay St. Louis Democratic Executive Committee certified Favre as the party's nominee Wednesday evening.

A "shout" of joy went up from a crowd of Favre's supporters as Charles Gottschalk, election commissioner, announced the returns for District One, the last to be announced pushing Favre ahead of Bennett.

Returns from Districts Four and Two gave Favre the edge and Bennett had pulled ahead of him by 10 votes when District Three's count was announced in unofficial returns.

Favre received 1,541 votes to Bennett's 1,200 in the two-man election when final tally was certified Wednesday.

Favre now faces Republican candidate Martin Morreale, who had no opposition in the June 6 General Election.

An elated Favre said, "I am thankful to the people for turning out to vote and supporting my stand on the issues. This is the first step as we still have the general election on June 6."

"With success in the general election then we can look forward four years of progress for Bay St. Louis," the Democratic nominee stated.

Bennett on Wednesday said, "It was a very tiring campaign. I ran a clean campaign and am very proud of my friends and supporters. It is a shame the supporters of my opponent did not run a campaign the same way."

Mayor Victor Franckiewicz did not seek re-election and had made that announcement after Favre announced he would run.

Four years ago Franckiewicz had unseated Bennett, a two-term mayor.

Favre had served as city clerk for four years under Franckiewicz and four and half years under Bennett as mayor.

On Wednesday, the Democratic Executive Committee reviewed some 75 affidavit ballots that were checked during the day.

Some were reported to have been registered in the county books but not shown on the city rolls while others voted in the incorrect district.

County, City unwilling to claim seawall hazard

BY D.C. HARVILL

A faulty drainage outlet in Bay St. Louis has created a potential hazard at the site of this year's Beach Front Festival and there is uncertainty over who should remedy the problem.

Water draining from Beach

Boulevard and Main and Court Streets, through a sub-surface drainage system, has created an eight-foot deep hole at the outside of the seawall near the end of Main.

Chunks of cement and other debris line the hole's bottom. Water from the drain's outlet overflows from a cement basin on privately-owned property, between Beach Front Bait Shop and Dan B. Murphy's Bar.

From the basin, water runs downhill to the seawall where it cascades onto a beach where its erosive force has created the hole.

The sponsors of the festival, the Bay St. Louis Business Association, plan to erect a music stage on the lot between Main and the seawall at that point. They are afraid, however, the hole presents too great a liability risk.

Three Bay councilmen re-elected; two incumbents in May 16 run-off

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Two Bay St. Louis city councilmen face run-offs on May 16 while three others were majority winners in Tuesday's Democratic primary election.

All the winners have to do is receive one vote in the June 6 general election to return to their respective council seats. There no Republican or Independent candidates for any council seat.

The vote count was certified by the Bay St. Louis Democratic Executive Committee late Wednesday.

Councilman-at-large James (Jimmy) Rutherford defeated Conrad L. Mauffray by a 1,555 to 1,109 vote.

Rutherford was elected in a special January election and had defeated Mauffray at that time in a run-off.

Charles Scianna, District One councilman tallied 571 votes to challenger Louis Decell's 131.

Scianna, too, joined the council after the January special election.

James C. Thriffley III, defeated E.V. (Gus) Aime 365 to 252 to win his fourth term on the council.

There will be a run-off in District Four between incumbent John Wilkerson and Burt Taylor. Wilkerson received 377 votes to Taylor's 233. Tom Williams, a third candidate in the race, received 178 votes.

District Three incumbent Charles E. Johnson, seeking his second term faces Thomas (Tom) Farve in a run-off on May 16.

Farve led the ballot with 275 votes to Johnson's 161. The third candidate in the Third District, Phillip S. Williams was a close third with 150 votes.

There were some 75 affidavit votes divided between the four districts which were checked and some counted by the Executive Committee on Wednesday.

Several were registered in the county but did not show in the city's rolls, some voted in the wrong district and a few were thrown out because they did not reside in the city limits.

Charles Gottschalk, Bay St. Louis Election Commissioner reported the city's results were the first to be completed along the entire Gulf Coast for the municipal elections Tuesday night.

Nicolaou given life without parole in cellmate's death

BY D.C. HARVILL

Wednesday afternoon Allan Nicolaou was found guilty and sentenced to life without parole for the 1984 murder of his cell mate in the old Hancock County Jail.

The verdict and sentencing were the result of a second trying of Nicolaou for the death of Charles Alan Poole.

According to testimony by Dr. John D. Rutherford Jr., who performed the autopsy, Poole had been beaten and suffocated on his own blood.

A guilty verdict from the first trial was overturned by the Mississippi Supreme Court in October because a definition of the term "malice aforethought" given to the jury by the late J. Ruble Griffin, then a circuit court judge, was confusing.

Nicolaou, 24, already is serving two consecutive life sentences for the January 1984 murders of Gerald Comiskey and Keith McMillian in Waveland to which he pleaded guilty.

He also pleaded guilty to armed robbery and kidnapping. At the time of Poole's death, Nicolaou was awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary.

According to Assistant District Attorney Dewitt Allred, Nicolaou was given the life sentence without parole because he had been deemed a habitual offender at a sentencing hearing.

Bay fire rating improves

BY D.C. HARVILL

Bay St. Louis' fire protection has improved, according to the results of an inspection done recently by the Mississippi State Rating Bureau.

The city's fire protection system, while retaining the same classification, improved by 134 points since last inspected in 1985, according to results received by Mayor Victor Franckiewicz Monday.

The state evaluates a fire protection system by comparing it to a hypothetical ideal system and assigning points for deficiencies. The lower the score, the better the rating.

Bay St. Louis' improved score is the result of improvements to the city's water system, better firefighter training, installation of auxiliary power and better hydrant maintenance, Franckiewicz said.

A new well drilled on 10th Street in 1987 was the first addition to the city's water supply since 1962.

Until the new well was installed, the city's water supply was not keeping up with the city's growth and deficiency points had risen, Franckiewicz said.

The system currently has a Class Seven rating. Should a Class Six rating be attained, owners of frame homes would save approximately 10 percent. Businesses and large institutions also would see a reduction in their fire insurance rates, Franckiewicz said.

Completion of water valve improvements, emphasis on training, renovation of the fire station, updated fire codes and the recently approved purchase of a new fire truck will further lower the system's number of deficiency points.

"Sometime in the new administration, the city should be able to reach a six," Franckiewicz predicted.

"These kinds of improvements take a long time," he added.

Computerization to alter Waveland billing cycle

BY DENA BISNETTE

The billing cycle for utility customers in the City of Waveland is changing, but the rates are remaining the same.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen voted Wednesday to approve the change, which is based on new billing capabilities resulting from computer installation.

According to Mayor John Longo Jr., bills must currently be paid by the 10th day of each month in order to avoid penalties. The new date will be the 15th.

In addition, computerization enables bills to be mailed promptly rather than 30 to 60 days late.

"You will receive your current billing the same month you use the utilities," Longo stated.

The city must make a double billing for April and May, however, to bring the system up to date. In other words, Longo said, the May billing will include the utilities used during both months.

The new system will become effective on June 1.

In other business, the board: —Took bids on a fire truck and a utility tractor;

—Approved a resolution supporting the Louisiana-Mississippi-Alabama Railroad Commission's effort to establish a passenger train service through Waveland; and —Scheduled a 6 p.m. workshop with the Waveland Animal Commission for May 17.

The next regular meeting is May 17 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

FONDLING ARREST MADE

A Bay St. Louis man was arrested April 26 and charged with two counts of fondling.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department arrested Billy Joe Carson, 38, a resident of 10th Street, for allegedly fondling a nine-year-old boy in December 1988, according to Sheriff's Investigator Nathan Hoda.

The case was referred to the sheriff's office by the Hancock County Welfare Department. Hoda is in charge of the investigation.

"If we can't put the stage there we'll have to put it in the street. Then the view won't be as good for as many people and we'll have more congestion in the streets," said association President Jim Thompson.

Thompson also expressed concern that children who play along the seawall might be injured by a fall into the hole.

The association has approached the Bay St. Louis City Council and Hancock County Board of Supervisors. Neither government body thinks the problem is within its jurisdiction.

Should anyone be hurt by falling into the hole, the county, city and the property owner possibly could be held liable, Thompson said.

"It appears that is all private property. And, whether it is private, city or state property, I don't know of any legal authorization for the county to go in and fix the problem. If anyone can show me a law that says the county can, I'll be glad to read it," said Supervisor's Attorney

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This is the time of year when it seems a lot of good things are happening in our communities.

On Saturday there are two very worthwhile events which will take place.

The annual Navy's Special Olympics will be held at the John C. Stennis Space Center in Hancock County.

This is a very important time for the special athletes. They, along with those who assist them, really have a good time.

I received a telephone call from my friend Wally Alston, coordinator for the Navy's Special Olympics on Tuesday reporting there were enough assisting volunteers, but, there is a need for spectators.

Wally said the Special Olympians would be thrilled to have a large cheering group while they participate in the many events planned.

Wouldn't it be nice if there were several hundred families from the area who would pack a bag lunch and go out to Stennis Saturday morning and have a good time supporting a very worthwhile sporting event.

Opening ceremonies begin at 9:30 a.m. Persons will be on hand to direct the public to parking spaces.

I have personally attended several of the Special Olympics events and it is really a joy to see the young men and women participate and enjoy the competition.

In case you think you may have missed the 'Coast Encounters' flyover, you need not worry as Wally called late Wednesday to tell me the planes will fly over Stennis at about 1:35 p.m.

He had just received official word about the flyover and felt it would be a great added attraction for the Special Olympics, and I agree.

I hope to see you in the 'stands' Saturday.

A worthy cause to be conducted on Saturday will be the ERA Bayshore door-to-door fund-raising campaign for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Herb and Patsy Dubuisson, owners of Bayshore Realty in Waveland, and their staff worked last year for this worthy event sponsored on the first day of May by ERA nationwide to help raise funds for Muscular Dystrophy.

Muscular Dystrophy is a muscle-wasting disease and funds raised across the nation on Saturday will be used on continued research for a cure.

We hope those who can help will do what you can. If you would like to help, call Herb or Patsy at 467-0244.

Do not forget the 'Coast Encounters' flyover which is rescheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m. along the coast from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula.

I saw a lot of folks looking for the planes last Saturday as I, too, waited for them, but the flight was canceled because of bad weather.

I hope they will be there on Saturday.

Mississippi on educational move, yet more needed

We have a lot to be proud of in Mississippi when it comes to education.

Remember the report, "A Nation at Risk?" That was the report released in 1983 that said what a poor state education was in throughout the country.

Did you realize that Mississippi passed its education reform act before "A Nation at Risk" was ever issued?

Mississippi was clearly ahead of its time.

Academic achievement has shown a steady increase since the Education Reform Act was passed seven years ago.

We are making progress in dealing with school delinquency.

For the first time, all our public schools offer kindergarten to make sure our Mississippi children are not behind their counterparts when that first grade school bell rings.

The fact of the matter is that Mississippi is leading the nation in educational improvement rather than lagging behind it. No one can say Mississippians are not committed to education.

Even so, we have a very long way to go if we want an educational system in Mississippi that is second to none. The race is on, and we're going to have to run faster and harder than our competitors if we are to give our children and adults the chance at success they deserve.

—ACT scores of Mississippi students are the lowest in the nation.

—More than 60 percent of high school graduates cannot qualify for admission to a Mississippi university in some parts of the state.

—Our universities lack the staff, programs and facilities necessary to compete.

—We rank second in the nation in our number of illiterate adults.

—We rank 49th in the nation in the amount we spend per pupil for public education.

Unfortunately, statistics are sometimes easy to ignore. But these statistics have faces. We're talking about the quality of lives—the lives of Mississippi children, for instance, who will have the door to opportunities slammed in their faces without a first-rate education.

In the coming weeks and months, we will be reaching out to citizens all over Mississippi to hear what you have to say about education in Mississippi. Our goal: To develop and propose later this year a second package of education reforms that will prepare Mississippi for the 21st Century—only 10 years away.

I will write more about this process next week.

Governor proclaims May Older Americans Month

Gov. Ray Mabus has proclaimed May as Older Americans Month in Mississippi to honor the approximately 418,000 senior citizens in Mississippi, 60 and older. The action corresponds with a presidential proclamation declaring May National Older Americans Month.

Mississippi events during the month will include the 1989 Golden Games, an award for outstanding volunteer efforts by a senior citizen and local activities in communities throughout the state.

This year's state theme, "Aging in Mississippi, Sharing the Caring for a Better Tomorrow," was chosen "to emphasize the importance of the social, cultural and economic vitality older citizens bring to their communities," according to the gubernatorial proclamation, which also states that the month "is an excellent time for public officials, community leaders and persons of all ages to join together to discuss the challenges of age today, and in the future, and to assess progress in meeting the needs of older citizens."

The Golden Games—Mississippi's Senior Olympics—will highlight Older Americans Month activities. Mississippians, 55 and older, are invited to enjoy the fun and excitement of athletic competition by participating in the games May 18-20 at the University of Mississippi.

There will be competition in running and walking event.

bicycle races, basketball free-throw shooting, bowling, croquet, darts, football and softball throwing, golf, horseshoes, shuffleboard, swimming and tennis. A 5-kilometer (3.1 miles) race for men and women has been added this year for serious long-distance runners.

The Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs' Mississippi Council on Aging (MCOA) selected Ruth Wilson of Utica, retired director of Mississippi's Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation (OVCP), to accept an award on behalf of all older volunteers in the state.

The May 24 awards ceremony in Washington, D.C., is designed to highlight President Bush's emphasis on volunteerism and the "thousand points of light" these volunteers represent in their communities.

"During her tenure as director of the Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation, Mrs. Wilson aroused a virtual army of volunteers from both the public and private sectors on behalf of aging, literacy, poverty and a host of other needy programs," said MCOA Director Dr. David Brown.

"She annually sponsored the Governor's Conference on Voluntary Citizen Participation which brought national attention to her pioneering efforts in the Magnolia State. A woman of boundless energy and commitment, an expert trainer and a dedicated public official, Mrs. Wilson is extremely active, to this day, in the many programs she has championed."

She served as OVCP director for 11 years prior to retiring last year.

Local activities to celebrate Older Americans Month include:

May 11—Children from Headstart programs will visit the Tupelo Multi-Purpose Center.

May 11—The City of Jackson will hold Senior Appreciation Day at Battlefield Park.

May 17—An ice cream party will be held at Jones Activity Center, Clarksale.

May 24—Yazoo Community Action Agency will hold Senior Appreciation Day at L. T. Miller Center, Yazoo City.

May 31—North Central Area Agency on Aging will sponsor an Over 60 Celebration at the Greenwood-Leflore Civic Center.

For additional information on Older Americans Month activities and the Golden Games, individuals should contact their local area agency on aging or the Mississippi Council on Aging at 949-2013.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader concurs—drivers are Highway 603's problem

Dear Editor:

In reference to your editorial, "Highway 603, What Causes Accidents?" I am of the same consensus.

I am a part-time student at Hancock branch of Pearl River Community College. So naturally, I have been and still am commuting on this noted highway.

I have experienced, on specific occasion—a north and south convey of 18-wheelers, cars, a motorcycle, a backhoe, pickup truck towing a trailer with a boat during—"an early morning drive."

Upon entering Hwy. 603 every person's "choice" was to motor 25 mph and enjoy the scenery.

I merely wasted one and a half hours to arrive at PRCC, since the lead driver in both lanes of traffic seemed to be on an early morning tour, while vehicles were bumper to bumper as far as could be seen.

I am of the opinion your context was similar to the above-mentioned concerning speed limit. However, I made a personal survey, and to my dismay I am aware of "no speed limit signs" from Hwy. 90 and Hwy. 603 junction to the parking lot at PRCC.

My comment pertaining to one-headlight cars—amazing; trying to distinguish such from a motorcycle at night—impossible! Furthermore, suddenly finding oneself behind a vehicle without rear-lights or an oncoming one with high-beam lights failing to switch to lower-beam spells D-I-A-S-T-E-R!

Hopefully, some of these problems will be remedied in the near future giving the motorist some peace of mind while traveling this highway.

"Pray for me, I travel 603."

Sincerely,
Gertrude Toomey

Parent seeks help for child unable to attend school

Dear Editor,

My children were in a bad car wreck Feb. 6. My seven-year-old son was in the hospital for a month.

I went to Hancock North Central to ask for help for him so he wouldn't fail first grade. I asked about the Homebound Program that other counties have. I was told we only have that program for the permanently disabled or terminally ill.

I contacted Superintendent Terrell Randolph who had his secretary call and say there's nothing they could do to help us.

We had explained that my husband, because of the accident, was not going to leave our kids to go back to Alabama where he had been working temporarily.

The school sent word we could hire a tutor to teach him for three months he'd be out of school.

Well, I ask you—with my husband out of work and I working a part-time job—just what are we supposed to pay him with?

This is his first year of school and no one wanted or would help him. He will not be able to go back this year at all.

Thank God, a teacher at HNC heard about it and volunteered to come to ur house and tutor him. He said he could not understand people just standing by and watching him fail. My husband went back to work two week ago and we have not had any money to pay this man.

I just don't think it's fair—this man willing to do this for us, but the school, superintendent of education or board members won't raise a hand to help.

I read in the paper this week where there are pushing through a plan to tutor and help the kids that don't want to go to school.

If they can do that for kids that don't want to go to school, why can't they help my son that wants to go to school?

Please think long and hard about it, as this could be your child begging for help!

Concerned Parent,
Patricia Peterson

Pet owner warns others of careless poisonings

Dear Neighbors,

Our dog and cat died yesterday. We don't know why.

All we know is that our cat began getting sick and then went and hid, and when we finally found her she couldn't even walk from weakness. She died very slowly.

My dog, that we all loved for many years, began to act "wobbly" yesterday morning. Just barely, though, and I thought she was groggy from just waking up.

By the time my 11-year-old daughter got home from school, my dog was tumbling all over herself and running into things.

My daughter called me at work, and by the time I found a veterinarian and got home from work, my dog could not walk.

Her eyes were begging me to "fix it." We got her to the doctor and she died one and a half hours later.

The cause of death? Poison of some kind. Possibly antifreeze left out carelessly or poisoned on purpose.

We will never know that happened. But I do know that because of someone who left something sit out like antifreeze or someone who just didn't like animals, my wonderful Freckles and my daughter's much-loved cat are gone, and it has caused us much pain.

My dog was loved by most of my neighbors. She visited certain ones each day that she loved.

I only write to remind people to be careful leaving thing sitting out that might harm a much-loved animal.

Q. How did the term "National Guard" first get used as a title for the U.S. militia?

A. The 2nd Battalion, 11th New York Artillery adopted the title "National Guard" in honor of Lafayette's celebrated Garde Nationale de Paris. The name was adopted during Lafayette's visit to the U.S. in 1824-25.

Hancock Library to participate in performance appraisal system

The Hancock County Library System Board of Trustees has approved a plan to participate in the Mississippi Public Library Personnel Performance Appraisal System, according to Prima Wusnack, library system director.

The appraisal system, developed by Dr. David Morris of Morris & Associates, will enable a comparison of a library employee's performance against written standards of performance and will provide a fair and legal method for handling personnel matters.

Morris wrote the performance appraisal system now being used by the State of Mississippi and the State of Wyoming. He also developed the appraisal system used by civilians in the U.S. Army.

The Mississippi Library Commission is sponsoring sessions for library administrators who want to utilize the system which is expected to take up to three years to fully implement.

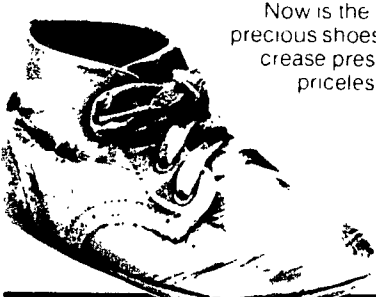

Wusnack and Linda McKay, administrative assistant, recently attended the first of a series of workshops devoted to planning, developing and implementing the appraisal system.

DOWN HOME

By Darlene Underwood
Hancock County
Home Economist

Like adults, children need calories and nutrients from food especially those in the pre-teen years.

Calories measure the energy available from food. The body uses calories for growth, physical activity and maintenance of body processes such as respiration and digestion.

Growth can increase children's caloric needs dramatically. When growth is slow, children have smaller appetites. But just before or during a growth spurt, they may always seem hungry.

You may notice this increased appetite when children snack and take larger servings at meals. For example, children who were once satisfied eating a sandwich for lunch may need a sandwich-and-a-half or more when they hit their growth spurts.

The caloric needs of children vary according to their sex, age, body size (height and weight), physical activity and the onset of puberty.

Nutrients are chemical substances in food. They work together with the body's chemicals to provide energy; to build, maintain and repair body tissues; and to regulate body processes.

There are more than 40 essential nutrients. To remain healthy, children must get all these nutrients on a regular basis. Food can supply all the nutrients children need. However, no single food contains all these nutrients in sufficient quantities.

Children, ages 9 to 11, have special nutrient needs because they are entering a growth spurt. Their need for calories and nutrients is often higher than that of younger children and adults. Some key points about the nutrients needed by 9- to 11-year-olds are:

*The nutrient needs of 9- and

Food and the pre-teen

10-year-olds has not changed since they were 7.

*At age 11 the recommended intake of some nutrients—protein, calcium and iron is greater than at 9 or 10.

*Increased protein is needed to take care of an increase in growth rate.

Additional calcium is required because of rapid bone growth.

*More iron is needed to accommodate body changes that occur during puberty, especially in girls.

With all these different nutrients to worry about, helping children get all the nutrients they need sounds like a complicated task. But it really isn't.

The major groups of foods—milk, meat, fruit/vegetables, and grains—provide these nutrients and make it easy to accomplish this task. By eating the recommended number of servings from each group, children should get all the nutrients that growing bodies need.

The milk group supplies calcium, protein and riboflavin. At least three servings of milk products are needed for 9- to 10-year-olds and 11-year-olds need four or more servings per day.

Fruits and vegetables add vitamins (especially A and C) to the diet. Children as well as adults need four or more servings each day. One of these should be a citrus fruit to provide vitamin C and a vitamin A source (such as dark green or yellow vegetables or fruits) should be eaten three to four times a week.

The grain group supplies carbohydrates, protein, iron, niacin and thiamine and four or more servings are recommended for everyone.

Protein, iron, niacin and thiamine are found in the meat group foods. Everyone needs two servings a day.

GOOD FOOD BUYS

Raisins provide interesting recipes

What is a raisin? A dried grape? That's right! It takes two to three weeks of sun-drying to turn a fresh grape into a dark, sun-dried raisin.

Four pounds of fresh grapes yield one pound of raisins. With over 80 percent of water removed from the original grapes during the drying process, raisins are naturally sweet and a concentrated source of nutrients. That's why raisins make such great snacks.

The growing and harvesting of raisins is a year-round effort accomplished almost entirely by hand, much the same way it was done long ago.

Raisins are made by drying freshly picked grapes, primarily the green Thompson seedless table grape variety, grown in the San Joaquin (San-wah-keen) Valley of Central California. These thin-skinned grapes are sweet, tasty and make succulent raisins.

California sun-dried natural raisins constitute 95 percent of the production. These are the most popular raisins for snacking, baking and cooking.

You'll find raisins in boxes in a variety of sizes. Just as there are many different people in the world, each with a different background and personality, there are also other raisin types.

Second in production is the golden raisin—packaged in a gold carton. Golden raisins are made from Thompson seedless green grapes that are specially dried in dehydrators and treated with sulphur dioxide to preserve the light color of the original grape.

This distinctive, tangy raisin is popular in cakes, candy and dessert sauces where a light color is preferred.

Muscats are green grapes that make large, dark and extra sweet raisins. The Muscat is a raisin with seeds, that is dried under the sun, and then the seeds are mechanically removed during processing.

Zante Currants are made from the Black Corinth grape, first grown in sunny islands near Greece.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

The Mint Julep—and the proper way to make it—has been a serious subject in the sippin' South since ante-bellum days, so we might as well join the inevitable argument as to the "right and only" formula for this potent concoction which has lifted spirits in the South—and elsewhere—for many a year!

This Saturday's annual Kentucky Derby, the 115th annual run, is the yearly excuse for the closest thing on earth to a Southern Mint Julep Festival, I think, and although not so many of us will be heading out to Louisville for the Run for the Roses and all the attendant "hoopla" we can still enjoy the julep at parties at home.

And there are parties and more parties planned for Derby Day on Saturday. Even if you don't care for Juleps and other such potables, you'll enjoy the better-than-delicious food that goes along with the "sittin' and sippin'" all along our Coast!

To many of us, Paradise is almost as close as sitting on the porch or patio—or, if you must, in the air-conditioning—sipping a frosty Mint Julep. And also, for many, as I said before—but, I often repeat myself—the subject of the recipe is as explosive as the Ole Miss-LSU game or the "only" way to cook Southern fried chicken or one's ancestors or the "War, Suh"—the War Between the States, that is!

My grandfathers, gentlemen of the Old South, were at most times in agreement on such minor matters as the younger generation and the state of the country and of the world and so on—but they parted company and grew vociferous over juleps.

Grandfather Barrett insisted that the mint be crushed, while Grandfather Daly considered this a desecration, scarcely less abominable than referring to the War Between the States as the "Civil War."

So, I'll just give you a recipe—the classic recipe, 'tis said—for the Mint Julep, from no less an authority than Irvin S. Cobb, the famed Kentucky humorist, who often said that "He who has not tasted one (a Mint Julep) has lived in vain."

So, here's:
COBB'S CLASSIC JULEP
6 sprigs freshly picked young mint

Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey, as your tolerance advises (Better make that one jigger, or two at most, for me)

Finely cracked ice
2 Tbsp. water
1 lump sugar

This is just for one julep, remember. Purists insist that juleps be made one by one (but you can mix up a batch if you wish). At any rate, crush three of the mint sprigs in the bottom of a glass with a silver or wooden muddler, or use the family julep cups if you're one of the posh ones who happen to have some around the house.

Rub the mint all around the inside of the glass or cup and discard any remains. Fill the glass with finely cracked ice, and slowly pour in three ounces of Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey (less if this will send you to Never-Never-Land! I find one ounce quite tasty and potent, at least for me).

At any rate, add the water in which you've dissolved the lump of sugar—but DO NOT STIR! Let the whiskey trickle to the bottom of the glass or cup all by itself. Place two or three sprigs of mint in the mouth of the glass, then happily sip that potent elixir!

Purists frost the cup before making the Juleps. And, if you make this by Cobb's recipe, after two or three of the potent potions, you won't care which horse wins!

If you don't care for juleps or such, lace your iced tea liberally with mint—and enjoy instead the other culinary delights at the Derby Day party—for most hosts and hostesses provide an array of good food—one has to, when serving dynamite!

THE CLIN

Players' "6 Rms Riv Vu" is triumph for Coss, Acker

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Waveland Players' current production, "6 Rms Riv Vu," is one of those plays anyone who loves comedy just has to see. It's a comedic triumph for its two stars.

The play showcases the talents of two local theatre veterans, Glenda Coss and Clem Acker, in the touching roles of two New Yorkers who meet by chance in an empty apartment.

Coss, whose more recent stage credits have included "Greaser Tuna" with the Waveland Players and "The Wizard of Oz" for Kinetic Neo-Skene Theatre, plays Anne Miller, a mother of two who is bored with her home-maker role but hasn't quite admitted it yet.

Acker, who is making his debut for Waveland but has acted in "A Bad Year for Tomatoes," "Here Lies Jeremy Troy" and other productions in Diamondhead, plays Paul. His character is a copywriter who has thrown away his earlier writing ambitions and is now married to a woman heading a women's liberation group.

Both have come to look at a rent-controlled apartment, six rooms with a view of the river if you lean far enough out of the second bedroom's window.

The two become temporarily trapped in the apartment when the doorknob is taken off by a crusty building superintendent, a small part stage veteran Edith Back expands comedically by doing little more than raising an eyebrow.

Coss and Acker are perfectly paired in this show, timing the awkwardness of the relationship they develop to give the entire show the spontaneous quality it needs. They overcome the difficulty posed by a set consisting of an empty apartment with few props, bouncing from utter silliness to tragedy with ease despite being on stage for almost the entire show.

Supporting roles include Kate Reynolds and Donald Harvill, playing expectant parents who are considering the apartment; Harvill is enthusiastic but Reynolds provides that stand-offish quality of a woman looking at a place that needs something.

The spouses of the trapped couple are played by Sherry Schwabacher and Edgar Perez, both experienced actors very at home on the stage but not comfortable with the behavior of their spouses when the four eventually meet.

Carol Young makes her debut as the woman who lives in the apartment across the hall, making her character thoroughly dislikable despite her brief appearances.

The play is expertly directed by Nan Patton Ehrbright, who has a number of local directing and acting roles to her credit.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $4 at the door with a $1 discount for senior citizens.

IN BRIEF

KEESLER AUCTION

An auction will be conducted at the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office at Keesler Air Force Base, Building 4422, May 16 starting at 9 a.m.

All property being sold can be preinspected starting May 11 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. until the auction starts.

The public is invited. For more information, call Stanley Fountain at 377-2505.

ON ETV

WOODCARVING

Beginners get a second introduction to the ancient craft of woodcarving when "Woodcarving with Rick Butz" returns to Mississippi ETV at 3 p.m. Saturday, May 6.

Using a step-by-step approach, Butz takes viewers through a range of projects that include a tern decoy, a traditional Swiss chair, Pennsylvania Dutch sugar scoops and cookie molds, a 19th-century German folk-style Santa Claus, a fleur-de-lis and a flying osprey.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By Lee Taylor

Remove decaying trees

A great deal of our timber land in Hancock County is in need of proper management. In looking at land and timber almost every day, I see timber stands in need of thinning or culling.

Many pines I've seen are suffering from a disease called Fusiform Rust. The disease sporulates in the spring and is recognized by the orange colored spores we see on pines. Oaks are intermediate hosts of the fungus in the winter.

Fusiform that has formed on the trunk of pines causes gall that can cause the tree to break in a high wind. The disease also limits a producer's options in a timber sale. Deformed pines should be culled early to allow more room for healthy trees.

Stands that are too thick are not reaching their potential. These areas should be marked for thinning by a professional forester. After the thinning operation, trees will grow quicker and be stronger.

Pines that have been struck by lightning or killed by beetles should be removed from the stand. Allowing these dead and decaying trees to remain may cause additional infestations.

Timber Price Report

The timber price report, published by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, is a monthly survey of stumpage and delivered timber prices in Mississippi. It can serve as a good price reference for Hancock County landowners who want to sell timber.

The report is developed through the cooperation of public and private members of the state's forest industry with extension foresters. It divides the state into four regions that reflect distinct timber markets. Average prices for common forest products are listed.

Copies of this monthly report are available at the Hancock County Extension Office.

Farm Bureau calls for ethanol use

The Mississippi Farm Bureau has announced its opposition to proposed regulations which would effectively eliminate the sale of ethanol-gasoline blends in the state.

At a hearing before the Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce and State Chemist Don Waller, president of the state Farm Bureau, testified on behalf of ethanol use by the state's motorists.

He called the corn by-product an important alternative to meeting octane requirements following the reduction and ultimate elimination of lead in gasoline.

Waller also spoke against the proposed labeling requirements for ethanol-gasoline blends, calling it an act which would seem to indicate a warning to motorists.

"If ethanol blenders are required to label their pumps, then blenders of other octane enhancers should also be required to label their pumps," the farmer leader stated.

Following the hearing, Waller said, "There is nothing wrong with ethanol blended gasoline. In fact, all U.S. car manufacturers have approved its use. It will also serve to reduce the dependence we place on oil, and as well as provide major environmental benefits."

"The motoring public should be given the opportunity to make a decision for themselves about ethanol use," Waller said, "and with Mississippi being an agricultural state, we certainly should not become a state which bans the use of a product derived from an agricultural commodity."

Literacy tutor training workshops slated in May

This workshop will be held in two six-hour sessions at the City-County Library, Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis.

Session one will be on Saturday, May 13, and session two on Saturday, May 20, from 8:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Attendance at both sessions is required for certification.

A fee of $10 covers the cost of teacher's manual for Skillbook One and a tutor handbook. The number of participants is limited; preregister by calling the library at 467-5282.

A workshop for training volunteer tutors in Laubach Literacy methods will be presented by Helene S. Roth, coordinator of Hancock County Adult Literacy Education (ALITE).

The 12-hour workshop will result in Laubach Literacy certification for volunteer tutors and is open to any adult wishing to learn how to teach other adults to read and write.

Those interested in the problem of illiteracy and those wishing to update their tutoring skills are also invited to attend.

Local homemakers host open house, mini-health, cultural arts fairs

The week of May 7 is National Extension Homemakers Week and the 75th anniversary of the Smith-Lever Act which established the Cooperative Extension Service.

To celebrate, the Hancock County Extension Homemakers will be hosting several workshops and activities.

On Monday, May 8, the Extension office will host an all-day open house at 725-A Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis. Drop by for a tour and refreshments.

Also on Monday, Lee Taylor, county agent, will conduct a home gardening program. The class will be at the Bay St. Louis Library at 2 p.m.

Wednesday, May 10, the homemakers will host a mini-health fair co-sponsored by Waveland Medical Clinic.

There will be free screenings for cholesterol, blood pressure, glaucoma and weight. Margie Welsh is chairman.

A sun-screen workshop will be conducted Thursday at the former fairgrounds building. Registration has closed for this program.

On Friday, a cultural arts fair, featuring works of homemaker club members will be held at the Bay St. Louis Library meeting room. Registration and judging of exhibits is from 8-10 a.m. The display will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Working demonstrations will be going on during public viewing of the cultural arts fair.

The public is invited to display crafts, which will be judged and ribbons awarded. Door prizes will be offered. Tommie Ziegeler is chairman.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1989-1B

SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

Part of the fun of keeping up with sports is watching local teams move into the play-offs. With the end of the school year approaching and spring sports seasons winding down, we have several play-offs going on right now, most notably in soccer and baseball.

The home teams don't make it into the play-offs every year and there is something more exciting about the seasons when they do.

It is even rarer to win a championship, but just getting into the race brings a certain amount of prestige.

We're hoping at least one local team will bring home the title, but we also take pride in having so many contenders on so many different levels.

People involved in sports sometimes have to deal with injuries and accidents, and the Hancock County Chapter of American Red Cross is offering a class that could help in those difficult moments.

An adult CPR class will be provided from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. May 8 at the Civil Defense Office in Bay St. Louis. The class costs $10 and size is limited, so pre-registration is required. Call 467-7609 to register.

The course includes one rescuer CPR, obstructed airway and rescue breathing.

Congratulations to Walden Curry of New Orleans on being named to the Delta State University Sports Hall of Fame. Curry, a native of Bay St. Louis, was a track standout at Bay High who graduated in 1970. Several of the five-time national champion's jumping records still stand.

The annual University of Southern Mississippi-Coca-Cola Classic Rodeo will be May 12-14 at the USM Equestrian Center in Hattiesburg.

The rodeo is in its fourth year now and features professional cowboys in bronc riding, steer wrestling, team roping, barrel racing and other traditional roping and riding events.

Three shows are planned, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

There are no ticket outlets on the Gulf Coast, but tickets are available at the gate for $6 for adults and $4 for children. Sid Gonsoulin at 266-5406 has more information.

The Sea Coast Echo has received a letter from Memphis, Tenn., asking us to let local fishermen know they still have until May 15 to enter the 1989 St. Jude Open Bass Classic, which the Memphis Bass Club is sponsoring to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

With more than $40,000 in prizes and money to be awarded to individual finishers, manufacturer's teams and bass club teams, maybe some local fishermen would like to be involved.

You may enter with a credit card by calling (901) 522-9733, extension 114, or 1-800-877-5833, and you do not have to own a boat to enter.

For those of you planning to attend the Pearl River Catfish Festival in Pearl River, La., May 19, 20 and 21, there's a rather unusual sports event planned—a firefighter's tug-of-war on the afternoon of May 20. All fire departments from St. Tammany Parish have been invited to compete, and the proceeds from the entire festival will benefit the Pearl River Volunteer Fire Department.

Tug-of-war, in my opinion, is the ancestor of the tractor pull and one of those natural athletic contests that evolved before the invention of balls and rules led to more complex games. Sometimes the simplest games are the most fun.

Don't forget! The Sea Coast Echo can run sports and sports-related items for you in Time Out. To submit items either bring them by our office by Tuesday, preferably before noon, or call Dena Bisnette at 467-5474. You're also welcome to mail them in, but be sure you send them early enough that they'll arrive here by Tuesday.

Friday is deadline for heart benefit golf tournament

BY DENA BISNETTE
Friday is the entry deadline for this year's Hancock County Heart Association Golf Festival.

The event is set for May 12 at Diamondhead Country Club's Cardinal Course, with May 19 as rain date.

Participants have a choice of a shotgun start at either 8:30 a.m. or 1 p.m., but the field is limited to the first 64 teams entering each session.

The $60 per player entry fee is a tax-deductible contribution to the Hancock County Heart Association and includes green fee and half of a cart fee. In addition, participants will receive a free five-by-seven color photograph and refreshments on the course itself.

A number of prizes have already been donated, including weekends at leading New Orleans hotels. Prizes are to be awarded at a lawn party hosted by Mac and Emma Casse after the tournament.

Anyone who wishes to attend the party but does not wish to play in the golf tournament may do so for a $10 donation.

Registration information should include names, addresses, handicaps and telephone numbers of each team member and should indicate if players wish to be paired with another entry. Registration and fees should be mailed to Marge Kasper, 8916 Ana Hula Ct., Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

Bay Tigers drop close one in first state play-off game

Bay High lost a close game to Franklin County High School in Meadville Tuesday night in the first game of the South State district play-offs.

They get another shot at the title, however, when they host a game at 5:30 p.m. tonight.

The young Tigers lost the heartbreaker by a score of 2-1 despite some good pitching by Will Seymour, who gave up only four base hits and a few singles in the bottom of the third to enable Franklin County to score the first run.

The Tigers came back in the top of the fourth to score their only run of the night on a second baseman's error when David Weems was on first. Doug Power hit a double and Weems scored on Charlie Mitchell's fielder's choice.

By the top of the seventh, the Tigers were behind 2-1 and managed to put two men on base, but were not able to drive any of them home.

Doug Power was credited with two base hits and Chris Heaps, Calvin Thigpen and Scott Barnes each had one.

The next game is tonight at 5:30 p.m. at home. The third game of the district series will be Saturday at the neutral site in Purvis.

Earlier in the week, the Tigers took two games against Vancleave. The first win was Thursday in Vancleave, when Bay High won 4-3 to put them into a tie for the number two spot in the district. Seymour was credited as winning pitcher.

Fueled by hits by Power, Weems, Kyle LaFontaine, Mitchell, Thomas Brinks and Thigpen, the Tigers won the second game Sunday 4-1 to clinch the district title and advance to the play-offs.

Sea Camp slated by Project Marine Discovery

Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp will offer several exciting new features during its second season, according to Dr. Sharon H. Walker, coordinator of educational programs at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Sea Camp, co-sponsored by GCRL and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, is scheduled for six to 12-year-olds at GCRL's J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi during the weeks of June 12-16, June 19-23, July 10-14, July 17-21, Aug. 7-11 and Aug. 21-25.

Sessions for 13- and 14-year-olds will be included during the weeks of June 19-23 and Aug. 7-11.

"In our first year, we had an unexpected positive response from parents of younger students, so this summer we are including more special activities for these children," explained Dr. Walker.

Some of the exercises include matching young stages of aquatic animals with adult stages, identifying salt marsh food webs, classifying fish according to body shape and coloration, examining plastic pollution problems, and studying wildlife management and conservation rationales.

For Sea Camp applications and information, contact the Marine Education Center in Biloxi at 374-5550 or Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs at 872-4200.

Pass Christian takes district tennis title

BY DENA BISNETTE

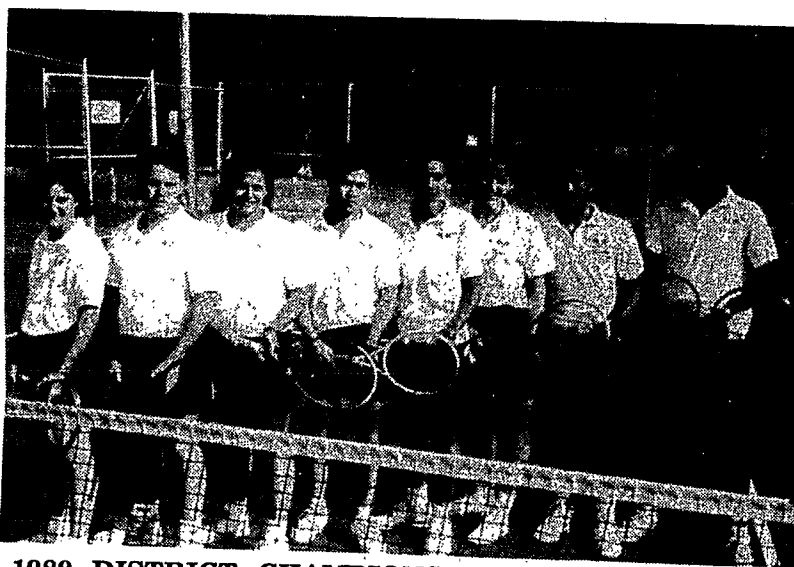

Pass Christian, which didn't even have a tennis team for a number of years, has won a district championship.

Pass Christian won the event, played in Vancleave by 11 points, followed by Bay High in second place with six points, said Andrew Lagarde, who coaches Pass Christian with Sam Parker.

Kenny Schmitt and Dena Ladner took first place in mixed doubles, while Stacey Theobald and Candice Pavolini took the girls' title. Columbia won the boys' doubles event.

In singles, Pass Christian came out on top with strong playing by Jenni McKay and Thanh Roettele.

Lagarde said the team went into the play-offs with a 12-1 season; Pass Christian's only loss was to Long Beach, a team they defeated later in the season.

Gulfport tennis title added to Labat's wins

MYRON LABAT JR.

Myron Labat Jr., an eighth grade student at St. Stanislaus, has added the Mississippi Tennis Association Spring Circuit-Bayou Bluff Tennis Championship in the Boys' 14-and-under Division to his list of recent tennis accomplishments.

Labat displayed a much-improved serve-and-volley game and an attacking style of play to dispose of the competition at the Bayou Bluff Tennis Club in Gulfport this past weekend.

In the first round, Labat defeated Steven Howell of McComb by a score of 6-0, 6-1.

In the second round he defeated Ashton Randall of Gulfport by a 6-0, 6-1 score.

In the semi-final and final rounds he defeated Paul Frank of Gulfport and Don Jones of McComb, respectively, by scores of 6-2, 6-0, and 6-0, 6-2.

Since December of 1988, Labat has won a total of four junior tournaments.

He is a member of the St. Stanislaus Varsity Tennis Team, which last week won District 8 AAAA titles in both Boys' Singles and Boys' Doubles.

Labat teamed with Robert Schutt to claim the District Boys' Doubles title while Mike Cromwell captured the Boys' Singles Title.

These district winners will attempt to capture state titles in their respective events when they travel to Jackson on May 4 to compete in the Mississippi State High School Tennis Tournament to be held at the Tennis South facility.

Sweepers advance to state tourney

Bay St. Louis' U-8 Sweepers recently became the first U-8 team from the Bay-Waveland area to capture the District IV Championship.

The Sweepers continue to hold their unblemished record as a undefeated team with their shutout of Gulfport's Braves, 6-0, and a win over Gulfport's number one team, the Cobras, 6-2.

The team also defeated Bay St. Louis' Raiders, 4-2, in an exciting game for the championship.

Coaches Steve Carver and Ronnie Vanney congratulated the team for their hard work, team spirit and good sportsmanship during the tournament.

Chris Genin, Ronnie Vanney, Steve Peterman and Dusty Carver are commended on their offensive play, with Ben Barnes, Raymond Estapa, Gus McKay, Donnie Shield and Jerry Taylor for their defensive effort which resulted in only four goals being scored on the team during the entire tournament.

The Sweepers advance to the state championship on May 13-14 in Jackson.

Speights among Mississippi College winning cheerleaders

Cheerleaders from Mississippi College were among the 15 college squads competing in the Pepsi/Mary Kay Cosmetics College Cheerleading National Championship in San Antonio, Texas April 8 at Sea World. Squads were judged on enthusiasm, timing rhythm, athletic ability and crowd response. Sponsored by Pepsi/Mary Kay Cosmetics and administered by Universal Cheerleaders Association of Memphis, Tenn., the competition is an annual event and will be telecast by ESPN in late April. Members of the Mississippi College cheerleading squad and their hometowns are Jay Albrighton of Quitman, Bubba Avdoyan of Gulfport, David Hickman and Lezlin Walker of Jackson, Darryl Longabaugh and Debby Oakley of Clinton, Ed Moore of Moselle, Donnie Speights of Bay St. Louis, Jill Hasty of Huntsville, Ala., Kim Ketchum of Ridgeland, Rebe Kahlessem of Vicksburg and Jodi McPhail of Magee.

Division IA champion was Louisiana State University, the Division I winner was Appalachian State University, the Division II winner was Mississippi College.

Jeff Webb, president of Universal Cheerleaders Association, said almost 600,000 students from junior high school through college participate in the various aspects of cheerleading annually. UCA, now in its 13th year of operation, held more than 300 summer clinics and camps in 44 states in 1988.

It's not too late to learn.

Strength.

When you look for a bank you look for strength and capability. Backed up by the facts and supported by the numbers.

Here are a few simple facts, followed by some hard, cold numbers, about Eastover Bank:

● Eastover Bank has over $30 million in net worth, which is nearly double federal regulatory requirements under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP).

● Eastover Bank has one of the highest capital ratios among all Mississippi financial institutions.

● Eastover Bank is certified by the Treasurer's Office of the State of Mississippi as a depository of public funds.

● Eastover Bank's assets in excess of $500 million place it among the state's 10 leading institutions in banking capability.

PRCC coach hoping for strong performance

Right now Pearl River Community College's head baseball coach, Jim Nightengale, is probably hoping for two things—a strong performance by his players and a dry field.

He'll need both to return to the playoffs this year.

The Wildcats are in second place with a 13-6 South Division record (23-15) overall, tied with Gulf Coast, with has a 11-6 record. Hinds leads the South with a 13-4 league mark.

Nightengale said his team is still mathematically in the race for first as Hinds must play double headers with Jones Tuesday and Gulf Coast Thursday, while Gulf Coast plays East Central Thursday.

The Wildcats have only one double header left, a home twin-bill against Copia Lincoln, which was rained out Saturday.

"I'm just hoping they're (his players) ready," Nightengale said, adding that sometimes rain delays cause a team to go flat.

He said the squad looked good in workouts Sunday night.

The Wildcats are familiar with this situation, as they were forced to sweep Utica (no longer in operation) last year to make it to the state playoffs, and Nightengale said he is hoping that experience will help his club this season.

If the rain continues to hold up play, he said it may take its toll on the South's pitching corps in the state tournament, which is scheduled to start Friday.

Nightengale said that according to state rules, all rain-out games must be finished by Thursday. If the games can not be played, he said they may have to push back the playoffs.

He has said all year that he would like to see another close race in the division, and the school's season may boil down to this final double header.

"We're getting down to the nitty-gritty," he said.

USM rodeo to highlight Hattiesburg 'Ole Time Fest'

Rodeo fans may want to grab their cowboy hats and gallop on down to the University of Southern Mississippi Equestrian Center May 12-14 for the fourth annual USM/Coca-Cola Classic Rodeo.

Prize money totaling nearly $15,000 will be awarded during the three-day rodeo, which is expected to attract an average of 2,000 fans each night and for the Sunday afternoon performance. Current contenders for national titles and some former champions will be among the competing cowboys.

The rodeo will be part of Hattiesburg's "Wild and Woolly Weekend" that also will feature the fourth annual "Ole Time Festival" in the city's downtown area that Saturday.

Comedian Jerry Clower and Cajun country/music star Jimmy C. Newman will entertain an anticipated crowd of 25,000 during the festival—which also will feature arts, crafts, food and fun.

Events will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 12, during a "UA Cablesystems of Mississippi Night at the Rodeo." During the evening's activities, UA Cable will donate a free trip to Disneyworld to one of its customers attending the rodeo.

Saturday, May 13, features "Hattiesburg American Night at the Rodeo." In conjunction with the evening's events, which begin at 7:30 p.m., the American and Pro Travel Agency will hold a drawing for an all expense-paid trip to the National Rodeo Finals in Las Vegas.

The winner will be selected at random from the day's rodeo ticket stubs and completed entry blanks.

"Coca-Cola Family Day at the Rodeo" will be Sunday, May 14, beginning at 2 p.m.

Each day's rodeo competition will include steer-wrestling, bareback-riding, calf-roping, team-roping, barrel-racing, saddle bronc-riding and bull-riding.

"In the past, the rodeo has brought more than 10,000 rodeo fans to the Equestrian Center," said Sid Gonsoulin, director of intramural and recreational sports at USM.

"It's hard to estimate how many of those are from outside the Hattiesburg area, but it (the rodeo) definitely brings in increased revenue for the city."

The grand marshal for the rodeo is Bruce Wilgus, a long-time supporter of the university and the Equestrian Center.

The gate admission will be $6 for adults and $4 for children under 12. All proceeds will go toward the support of the USM Equestrian Center. For more information about the rodeo, contact Gonsoulin at 266-5406.

Reorganization, fishing laws, live bait priorities, Gill says

Reviewing and revamping fishing regulations will be one of the many challenges facing Joe Gill Jr. in his new position as Department of Wildlife Conservation deputy director in charge of coastal operations. The Wildlife Conservation Commission voted recently to appoint Gill to the new position which will include the day-to-day operation of the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Gill has been serving as acting director of the bureau since last September.

Gill said he will be conducting workshops in the near future with representatives of the seafood industry, law enforcement and marine biologists to help in the renovation of fishing regulations.

"Some of them (regulations) will have to be rewritten. Some will have to be thrown out," Gill said. "The biggest problem we're having with the regulations now is that a lot of them are vague. If an officer makes an arrest, it often doesn't hold up in court."

Gill said efforts by fishermen, seafood dealers and conservation officers, working together to review the regulations should result in plainer laws.

"I think that after we discuss these laws with the users and law enforcement we'll wind up with laws that everyone understands and we won't have the problems with interpretation that we have now," Gill said.

Another challenge facing Gill is the further melting of coastal resource management programs into the statewide Department of Wildlife Conservation headquartered in Jackson.

The DWC has been the parent agency of the BMR since the bureau was founded in 1979 after the state Marine Conservation Commission and Marine Resources Council were combined.

But recent reorganization efforts in the department, which will take effect July 1, provide for the DWC to take over operation of state parks, creating the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

The reorganization calls for the merger of the BMR into the new department's wildlife and fisheries division.

"It will be a good, positive move," Gill said. "It will further re-enforce the idea that we're all one agency. Managing our resources, whatever they may be, will require a combined effort by all of us, and that includes the public."

Do points still 'point out' bass?

It may be a hard pill to swallow, but bass anglers are beginning to realize their favorite and most obvious lake structure—points—aren't as effective as they were years ago.

In a word, points may not really 'point out' bass anymore.

That's the opinion of Denny Brauer, a member of the Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff and recognized as one of the most successful tournament bass anglers in America.

"The obvious points that form a lake's shoreline are simply getting over-fished," explains Brauer. "On many impoundments, the bass just aren't there anymore."

"The best points to work are the less obvious ones that may not be visible above the water. I like to fish points that are on the flatter side of a lake and have a creek or river channel nearby."

Brauer also suggests anglers look for underwater points at the mouths of tributary creeks, as well as secondary points within the creeks themselves.

"Points like these are especially good spots for spring fishing," he notes, "because bass may spawn on or near them. Points also hold baitfish, and wherever bait is found, bass aren't far away."

Brauer also likes those points formed on the inside bends of creek and river channels. These can be located first by map study, then pinpointed with depthfinders. They offer classic shallow water/deep water structure.

One problem in fishing the longer, flatter points, says the Evinrude pro, is locating bass, simply because there is more area available to them.

"Many anglers are fishing too shallow," he explains. "Their boats are actually on top of the fish they're casting to. I suggest working slightly deeper water first, then moving shallow."

In the spring Brauer likes to fish points with large, floating/diving stick baits. These lures seem to be particularly effective on those points where large rocks are present.

He also likes to use regular deep diving crank baits, banging the lure along the bottom with a stop-and-go retrieve that imitates a crayfish.

In colder water, he uses a jig and frog, while in warm weather he may use a plastic grub and light line.

"Another lure worth trying, especially if the bass are deep," Brauer adds, "is a large 10 or 12-inch plastic worm crawled along the bottom. Work it just like a smaller worm, only with a little larger hook and a slightly heavier slip sinker."

"Points are still good places to look for bass on any lake, and probably always will be," the well-known Evinrude pro explains, "but the best points are going to be those that aren't quite so obvious and don't get fished as hard."

"Work these points a little deeper and with some different lures, such as the larger worms, and you'll probably catch fish."

Keesler to host AAU karate event

In conjunction with Keesler's recognition of Asian-Pacific American Heritage Week, a sanctioned Amateur Athletic Union karate tournament will be held in the Youth Center Gym May 13 starting at 11 a.m.

This is one of the first AAU karate events in the state and Keesler hopes to make it an annual event.

Contestants will be judged in Kata (form) and Kumite (sparring) karate divisions. Contestants will have the option to participate in either division or both.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. the day of the event. Entry into the tournament is $15, plus a $6 AAU membership fee for those age 20 and under. The AAU fee is $18 for those 21 and older.

For more information, call Capt. Les Foley at 435-7449 or 377-3365.

St. Jude Open Bass Classic to benefit children's hospital

Entries for the 1989 St. Jude Open Bass Classic are arriving at a near record pace. The tournament is over 70 percent filled with only one month remaining before the entry deadline.

More than $40,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded to the top individual finishers, the top manufacturers' team and bass club team. More states will be represented in 1989 than at any previous tournament with fishermen arriving from Mississippi, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Georgia, Texas, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas.

Guy Eaker of Cherryville, I.C. will serve as master of ceremony. Eaker is a six-time BASS qualifier. His appearance has been provided by Zebeo and Motor Guide.

The top fisherman will win a 14' Lowe aluminum boat and trailer with a 9.9 Johnson outboard. One participant will win a 370 Ranger with a 150 Johnson GT outboard and a Custom Frames trailer. This will be awarded by drawing at the end of the tournament.

USM Baseball Camp to feature fundamentals

Students wishing to learn more about baseball may attend one of several summer baseball camps planned at the University of Southern Mississippi during June and July.

A Golden Eagle Baseball Camp will be held June 19-23 for students in grades 7 through 12, with another session for third through sixth graders scheduled July 5-7.

The camps are designed to teach sound baseball fundamentals to each camper, regardless of the camper's level of skill upon enrolling. Emphasis will be placed on both learning and having fun at all times.

Special features of the camps will include individual and team instruction; outstanding coaches; air-conditioned dormitories; planned menus; adult supervision; guest speakers and films; and access to the campus swimming pool. Campers may attend on a full-time ($160) or part-time ($100) basis.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead, Dedeaux, Clermont Harbor and Pearlinton.

Call Helene Roth, Hancock County literacy coordinator at the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

GED Classes

GED (Graduation Equivalency Diploma) Classes for adults who have not completed high school are held on the following days, according to Lois S. Abrams, instructor.

Monday
Hancock North Central, 6-9 p.m.; Hancock Library, Bay St. Louis, 6-9 p.m.

Tuesday
Charles B. Murphy, Pearlinton, 6-9 p.m.

Wednesday
Hancock Library, Bay St. Louis, 6-9 p.m.

Thursday
Kiln Library, Hwy. 603, 10-noon; Waveland Library, Coleman Ave., 1:30-4:30 p.m.; Charles B. Murphy, Pearlinton, 6-9 p.m.

Friday
Kiln Library, Hwy. 603, 10-noon; Waveland Library, Coleman Ave., 1:30-4 p.m.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160 toll free. Call from pay telephones should be made collect. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Senior Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macramé, art, quilting, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, Christmas ornaments, framing, wood working and various other crafts. A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 30 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 35 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light housekeeping or errands for them.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Senior Citizen Jobs

Seniors Job Registry, Russell Youth Court Building, 126 Court Street, Bay St. Louis, offers placement services to employees and employers.

The registry is a free community service provided by National Council of Senior Citizens Senior Aides Program funded by the Department of Labor through South Mississippi Planning and Development District.

The registry attempts to place seniors 55 years old or older in hourly, daily, weekly or monthly positions, according to Gertrude Sauer, coordinator.

Call 467-7945 for additional information. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Fridays.

Thrift Store

Waveland Conference, St. Vincent de Paul Society operates a thrift store, Waveland Civic Center, Coleman Avenue, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Proceeds benefit needy regardless of race or religion. 467-0703.

HNC students attend UM science symposium

A team of science students and their advisor from Hancock North Central High School were among 40 teams from around the state who participated in the 18th annual Mississippi Regional Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at the University of Mississippi.

They included adviser Suzette Burton, Robin Marshall and Sheila Furey. Dr. Arthur C. Guyton, professor of physiology and biophysics at The University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, delivered the keynote address.

The two-day program included educational sessions, career emphasis sessions, academic competition for the scholarship awards, campus tours, entertainment and the awards banquet.

The annual event is coordinated by Ole Miss officials in cooperation with The Academy of Applied Science and The U.S. Army Research Office.

SCIENCE SYMPOSIUM—Advisor Suzette Burton and Hancock North Central students Robin Marshall and Sheila Furey attend a recent Ole Miss symposium.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
WHEREAS, on the 9th day of August, 1984, ROBERT JOSEPH JONES and wife, LORE AFFREY JONES, executed a deed of trust to John A. Scarife, Jr., Trustee, to secure an indebtedness therein mentioned to CLERK, E. SEAL and wife, BERNICE WEIR SEAL, which deed of trust is recorded in Book 287, pages 121-124, Deeds of Trust on Land, Hancock County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, default having been made under the provisions of Paragraphs 5 and 9 of said deed of trust, and the said Oliver E. Seal and wife, Bernice Weir Seal, the legal holders of said deed of trust, having requested the undersigned Trustee to foreclose on said deed of trust for the purpose of curing the default as aforesaid; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, on the 23rd day of May, 1989, within legal hours, offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the following described property situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, to-wit:

Commencing at the Southeast corner of Section 21, Township 6 South, Range 15 West, Hancock County, Mississippi, said point also being the Southeast corner of a tract of land owned by Oliver & Bernice Seal and described in Deed Book H-5 Page 553 in the Office of the Chancery Clerk, Hancock County, Mississippi; thence West along the South boundary of said Section 21 and the South line of said property 453.00 feet to the West line of said deed of trust, said point also being the East margin of the Old Plaquemine-Kin public road on the East margin of the Old Plaquemine-Kin public road;

thence North 01 degrees 20 minutes East along the common boundary of the above mentioned Seal property and Plaquemine-Kin road 22.00 feet to the P.O.B. of the property herein described, thence continue North 01 degrees 20 minutes East along said boundaries 100.36 feet; thence South 86 degrees 47 minutes 23 seconds East 133.81 feet, to a large corner, thence South 03 degrees 02 minutes 36 seconds West 99.76 feet to a large corner, thence North 87 degrees 01 minute 51 seconds West 130.82 feet to the P.O.B., containing 0.302 acre and being a part of the Southeast 1/4 of the Southeast 1/4 of Section 21, Township 6 South, Range 15 West, Hancock County, Mississippi;

Together with all and singular, the rights, privileges, improvements and appurtenances to the same belonging or in any way appertaining.

I will convey only such title as is vested in me as Trustee.

ADVERTISED, POSTED AND DATED this, the 27th day of April, A.D. 1989.

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S
NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on October 23, 1987, David F. Westcott, et al., Alice Y. Westcott, executed a certain Deed of Trust to John H. Fulton, Trustee, for the benefit of The Veterans' Home Purchase Board of the State of Mississippi, which deed of Trust is recorded in the Office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Ms., in Book 311 page 765; and

WHEREAS, said The Veterans' Home Purchase Board of the State of Mississippi has heretofore substituted Charles R. Mayfield, Jr., as Trustee in place and stead of the present Trustee named for said Deed of Trust, by instrument dated April 10, 1989, as of record in said Chancery Clerk's Office in Book 328 Page 145; and

WHEREAS, default having been made in the terms and conditions of said Deed of Trust and the entire debt secured thereby having been declared to be due and payable in accordance with the terms of said Deed of Trust, the legal holder of said indebtedness, having requested the undersigned Substituted Trustee to foreclose on said deed of trust and sell the property in accordance with the terms of said Deed of Trust for the purpose of raising the sums due thereunder, together with attorney's fees, trustee's fees, and expenses of sale;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Charles R. Mayfield, Jr., Substituted Trustee in said Deed of Trust, will on May 19, 1989, offer for sale at public outcry, and sell within legal hours (being between the hours of 11:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M.) at the Main Front door of the County Courthouse of Hancock County, Mississippi, the following described property for cash, the following described property situated in Hancock County, Ms., to-wit:

Pass Christian tour to honor Wittman

The 1989 Pass Christian Historical Society Tour of Homes is being dedicated to a man who built or remodeled many of the city's beachfront and historic district homes.

Frank Philip Wittman St., a native of Pass Christian whose first contracting job was the construction of the St. Paul's Catholic Church rectory in 1904, worked on at least 50 of the homes, including all of those to be featured on Sunday's tour, during a career that continued into the late 1950s.

The tour begins at 1:30 p.m. and continues until 5 p.m.

The homes include Belvedere, which is also known as the Parhan-Katz house and is currently the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Pugh III, 800 West Beach Boulevard; Lockewood, Mr. and Mrs. Sadun Tor, 513 East Scenic Drive; Leovy-Hill house, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stewart Maunsell II, 625 East Scenic Drive; and Legier-Frye house, Miss Julia Frye, 613 East Scenic Drive.

In addition to the four homes featured, the Pass Christian Historical Society building at 203 East Scenic Drive will be open from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Anyone wishing to participate in the tour may pick up tickets at that location for a $6 donation, with proceeds to benefit the historical society.

In addition, the society building will house a boutique providing items from local artisans and merchants from 1:30 until 5 p.m.

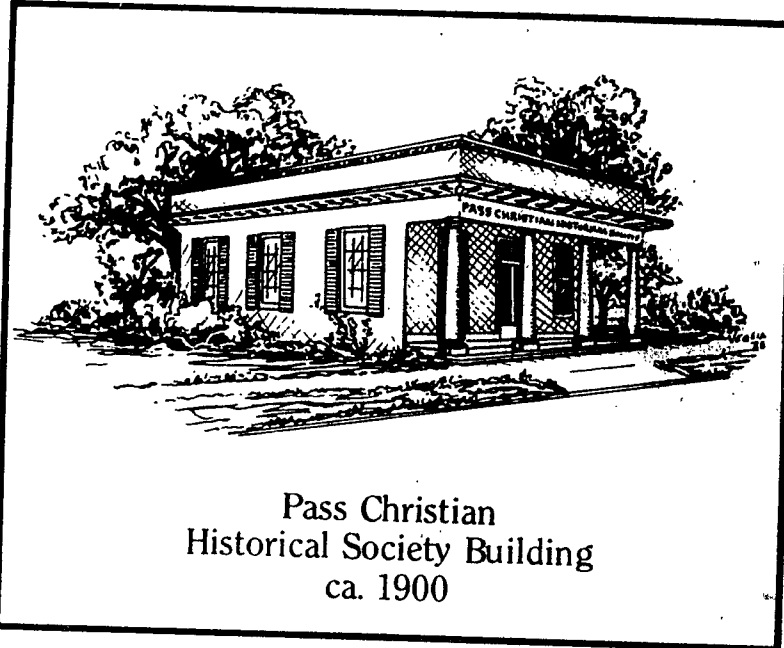

Belvedere, Lockewood and Leovy-Hill house will be open from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m., but Legier-Frye house will be open from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. when tea will be served.

America's beautiful kites—
at home in Hancock County

By LYDIA SCHULTZ

In Roger Tory Peterson's Field Guide to the Birds, Eastern and North Central America, there is a description of the kites, birds of prey, "graceful birds of southern distribution. U.S. species are falcon-shaped with pointed wings. Food: large insects, reptiles, rodents."

I can assure you, that does no justice for these beautiful, exciting birds which sometimes capture food in flight and eat while flying. Their beauty and grace account for the smiles and bright eyes of those boasting the sights of any of the kites.

Hancock County can claim one thing no other county in the state can. In fact, we may be the only county in the United States which can claim nesting pairs of three of the four kites listed in Peterson's Eastern Guide to Birds. The three are the Swallow-tailed Kite, the Black-shouldered Kite (also known as the White-tailed Kite), and the Mississippi Kite.

The only other two kites mentioned in any field guides for the U.S. are the Snail Kite found in a very small area of southern Florida and the Hook-billed Kite, rarely seen straying from its tropical grounds to southern Texas.

The magnificent American Swallow-tailed Kite, according to Judy Toup's Birds and Birding on the Mississippi Coast, "probably nests near the Pearl River at Logtown, Pearlington Woods, and the restricted acreage of NASA."

The Black-shouldered Kite, which we can now claim as a year-round resident, was only recently recorded in Mississippi in 1982 by Toup. Port Bienville was the habitat it chose with successful nestings in several areas of southwest Hancock County. They were closely watched by many of local birding enthusiasts and visiting birders.

Logtown again claims the nesting area for the third kite we mentioned, the Mississippi Kite.

In a nationally recognized book, The Complete Birder, Author Jack Connor states, "Raptor enthusiasts might consider a trip to Hancock County, the one place in North America where three kites nest. If you're lucky, it's even possible to see the swallow-tailed, black-shouldered, and Mississippi kites sharing the same airspace. All three have been seen there simultaneously."

We know that habitat is a very important and specific thing for each species of bird—any bird. Kites are no different. Hancock County just so happens to meet the needs for each of these birds.

There were times in the early part of this century when these birds of prey were watched closely, and even the Black-shouldered Kite was thought to be near extinction. Its range, which was California and Southern Texas, seems to be expanding now and the numbers of records are holding strong.

Deep woods not far from rivers, lakes and bayous is what suits the Mississippi Kite and about the same goes for the Swallow-tailed Kite, while the Black-shouldered kite likes open groves near water.

I have often been asked by those who have not yet learned the appreciation of our wildlife, "What's the big deal about birds?" It is the fact that these three birds spend their winters so far away—south of us—and fly to the same area, often the same tree to nest again, maybe even the same nest. The miracle of that feat never escapes my admiration. Their beauty and elegance deserve it.

Pete Dunn, the eloquent author of Hawks in Flight, visited our area twice recently. He marveled at the abundance of our wildlife and habitat. He challenged us to maintain it. He is pegged as America's Second Best Known Birder, behind Roger Tory Peterson. Pete was director of the Cape May Bird Observatory from 1978 to 1987. At present he is director of New Jersey Audubon Society. He has seen habitats destroyed and the changes that occur. He knows first hand.

What I am trying to impress upon us, as residents of Hancock County, is the richness we enjoy and take for granted here. That richness comes from our waters: bayous, lakes, rivers, swamps, ponds. That richness comes from our woods: the mixtures of oaks, pines, dead trees (snags), gums, tallows, etc., our open areas. All these combine to yield all three of America's beautiful kites—at home in Hancock County.

Thought for this time: What is the value of a tree? What price can be put on our wildlife? Or is it priceless?

The sight of a swallow-tailed kite soaring above a forested river bottom is a special experience. But as bottomlands disappear, this bird's future becomes

OUR SPECIAL CONCERN

Mississippians are reaching out. In the recent May/June issue of Bird Watcher's Digest, Judy Toup was featured in a Close Focus written by Pete Dunn.

This compact magazine is a widely-read and respected magazine in the world of birders. He talked about Judy and her impact on the Mississippi Coast. He talked about our birds and invited all birders to enjoy our wealth of wildlife. Thanks to Judy each of us is more aware of it than ever before.

BHS Star student, teacher selected

The Mississippi Economic Council has announced that B. Alan Fraser Jr. has been selected as the Star Student at Bay Senior High School.

Star Students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the school's Star Student.

The Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors, explained Kane Ditto of Jackson, chairman of MEC's Council on Education.

B. ALAN FRASER JR.

"Top scholars are being designated as Star Students in more than 300 participating schools in Mississippi. From these Star Students, area winners are selected, and the Council awards scholarships to the state's top three Star Students and their Star Teachers."

Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Phil Hardin Foundation of Meridian and Sanderson Farms Inc. of Laurel.

Each Star Student is asked to designate a Star Teacher, a teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement. Ms. Carrie Ainsworth Smith was designated Star Teacher.

Both the Star Student and the Star Teacher will receive certificates from the Council, in addition to being eligible for competition for scholarship awards.

Fraser is the son of Harry and Jewell Brown. He attended Bay Junior High and has been at Bay High since his freshman year.

The Star Student has been a member of the Tiger Pride Band all four years of high school and received many awards associated with his participation in band—Gulf Coast Clinic—9, 10; Most Improved, 9, 10; Solo & Ensemble Superiors 9, 10, 11; Outstanding Musician 11; Brass Captain 12; Musical Appreciation Award from the Lawmen's Association 11; Section Leader 10, 11, 12.

He is also very active in several clubs this year—YMCA, Business Club, Science Club, and Varsity Quiz Bowl. Alan is a two-year member of the National Honor Society and has been on the Alpha Honor Roll in grades 9-12.

He was listed as a member of Who's Who Among American High School Students his sophomore and junior years.

Georgia Institute of Technology is the college Fraser plans to attend after graduation he has chosen the field of finance/real estate as his major.

Fraser was asked why he chose Mrs. Carrie Smith as Star Teacher. He stated, "I chose Mrs. Smith as Star Teacher because of her dedication and her patience with her students."

Mrs. Carrie Smith has been teaching for 15 years. She has taught at Bay Senior High for 14 years. Honors English 12 and English 10 make up Mrs. Smith's teaching assignments this year. She received a BA with a major in English from Millsaps College.

The 1989 Star Teacher Award is not the first time Mrs. Smith has received this honor. She was named Star Teacher in 1978 and 1985.

The Star Teacher has been honored by the American Legion Posts in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and by the VFW Post in Bay St. Louis for her outstanding work with oratorical contestants.

This year Mrs. Smith's students placed first and second in the American Legion Oratorical Contest. Mrs. Smith has also worked with the Student Council for the past three years.

When asked how she felt about being chosen Star Teacher by Fraser, Mrs. Smith stated, "To quote Shakespeare, 'All the world's a stage,' and to be chosen by Alan as Star Teacher honors me greatly for my performance on my stage—the classroom."

PRCC Awards Day winners named

More than 90 students were recognized for their achievements at Pearl River Community College's Awards Day ceremonies.

On hand for the ceremonies were State Representative Curtis Holston and State Senator Margaret "Wootsie" Tate, who recognized PRCC's Teacher of the Year Dr. James Barnes and Student of the Year Margaret Lacavera of Carriere.

Receiving special honors were Picayune's Berry McCormick, who was presented with a certificate by PRCC President Dr. Ted J. Alexander for being selected to represent the school as its nominee for the Student Scholar Award presented by the American Association of Junior/Community Colleges, and six students who received citizenship awards.

Receiving citizenship awards were Misha Eshe of Carriere and Todd Russell of Petal in the academic division; Angela Pittman of Picayune and Anthony King of Carson in the technical division; and Corina Garretson of Picayune and Albert Keith Creek of McNeill in the vocational division.

Local students receiving awards were:

Technical Division: Barbara Cramner of Bay St. Louis, drafting and design; and English Competition Award, Poetry: Martin Frings of Waveland, honorable mention.

Chiniche, Bowles exhibit design work

Some 80 University of Southern Mississippi students exhibited their work during an open house of the School of Home Economics Interior Design Studio April 14.

Completed during spring semester interior design courses at USM, Bay St. Louis students who exhibited their work included Michelle Chiniche, a 20-year-old interior design major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Chiniche; and Kristin Bowles, a 21-year-old interior design major.

After a stroke,
we'll help put your world back together.

Suddenly, you feel your world has fallen apart.

But it hasn't, not really. There is help, and it's closer than you think. As close as Slidell Memorial.

Healing after stroke can be lengthy, lonely, and frustrating.

But at our Rehabilitation Unit, recovery from stroke, surgery, or serious injury is more comprehensive and faster than ever before.

Physicians, rehab specialists, therapists, and nurses staff the unit. Patients and therapy team members work one on one to shape and quicken recovery on an individual basis. Secondary therapy sessions keep patients active, not lonely or frustrated.

Occupational, physical, speech, and other, more specialized therapies work better at the Rehabilitation Unit. Because they're provided daily, not weekly.

The Rehabilitation Unit is a complete therapy unit where recovering patients reassemble their lives as they learn to live again. Our therapy team will tell you that's all that counts.

BEN SCHEPENS

St. Stanislaus names valedictorian, salutatorian

Brother Paul Montero, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, announced Ben Schepens has been named valedictorian and James Benigno will be salutatorian of the 135th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis.

Commencement exercises will take place on Saturday, May 20 at 11 a.m. in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Schepens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schepens of Long Beach, is an alpha honor roll student and is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Key Club, the St. Stanislaus Computer Club, and he was secretary of

He placed in the top ten percent in biology at the Mississippi College Math and Science Competition; he placed second in Computer Fundamentals for Regional Junior Engineering Technical Society (JETS) Competition; and he placed second in team competition at the University of South Alabama Computer Programming Competition.

He received the National Honor Society Service Award; and he was named St. Stanislaus Star Student in his senior year. Schepens will attend the Georgia Institute of Technology where he will study computer engineering.

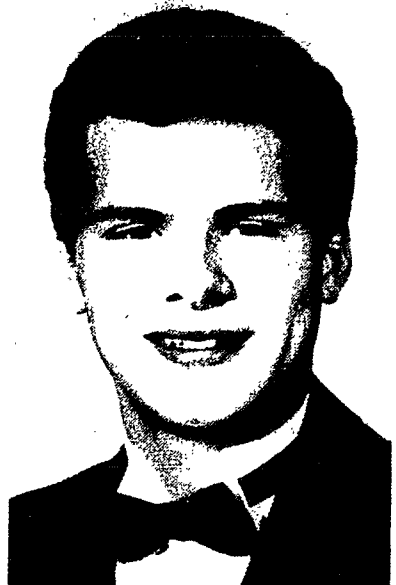

Benigno is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Benigno of Pass Christian. He is an alpha honor roll student and is presently in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus.

He is treasurer of the National Honor Society, and he is a member of the high school marching and concert bands at St. Stanislaus.

He has received superior ratings as drum major in his junior and senior years, and he was named Most Outstanding Band Member of his junior class.

He is assistant editor of the school newspaper, and he is a member of the math and science team. He was named St. Stanislaus Senior of the Month for March, and he played the lead role in the school musical "Annie Get Your Gun."

Benigno will attend the University of Southern Mississippi where he will pursue a degree in biomedical studies.

JAMES BENIGNO

Scholarship donor Munro Petroleum honored by USM

Arnold Balus of Biloxi was honored as a scholarship donor during a special USM Foundation-sponsored reception April 12 at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Balus represented Munro Petroleum and Terminal Corp., supporter of the scholarship presented each year through the USM Foundation.

Three students received the scholarship for 1988-89. They included Mark Berglund of Plano, Texas; Denise Strong of Bay St. Louis and Stanley Wallace of Hattiesburg.

BHS teacher elected president of educators

Dr. Betty Ann Jones of Long Beach has been elected to serve as president of Mississippi Professional Educators for the school year 1989-1990.

Dr. Jones is a Chapter I curriculum coordinator with the Bay St. Louis Public School System.

A graduate of Drew High School, Dr. Jones received her B.S. and M.S. degrees from Delta State University and her Ed.D. from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Dr. Jones served on the MPE board of directors during 1984-86 as District 8 representative and as president-elect during 1988-89.

Dr. Jones has served as city alderman in Long Beach and currently serves on the Mississippi Alcohol and Drug Advisory Council. She is a member of the National and State Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development, National Association of Elementary School Administrators, Mississippi Reading Association, Directors of Mississippi Association Federal Project Directors and Mississippi Professional Educators.

Dr. Jones is married to Bobby Charles Jones, principal of Long Beach High School. They are the parents of two children, Debbie and Patrick.

DR. BETTY JONES

Mississippi Professional Educators is an association whose purpose is to improve education at all levels in the state of Mississippi.

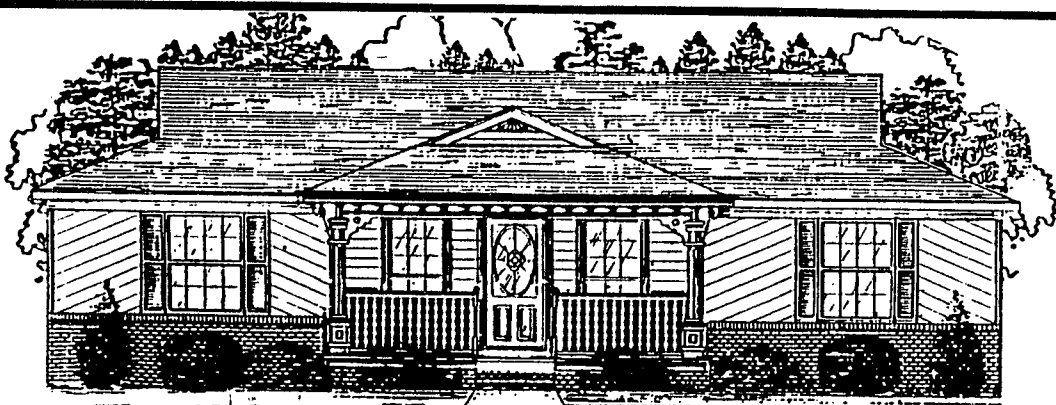

LOCAL BRIEF

PCHS ORIENTATION
Pass Christian High School is conducting an orientation program for parents of eighth grade students who plan to attend Pass Christian High School in 1989-90 Thursday, May 4 at 7 p.m. in the Pass Christian High School library.

According to Adrian J. Swannier, principal of Pass Christian High School, important information about the high school will be discussed and questions will be answered.

MSU SCHOLAR—Kelly Ramsey of Waveland is among 13 students newly inducted into the Society of Scholars in the Arts and Sciences at Mississippi State University. Ramsey, a junior communication major, is congratulated by MSU President Donald Zacharias, a speaker at the induction program. The society seeks to recognize scholarship and promote interest in the arts and sciences.

FOR THE HUNGRY.

You can make a big difference in the war against hunger. Through WINN-DIXIE's "Even It Up!"
program, you can help collect funds for perishable food items for needy families. Your customers will be

"evening up" their grocery totals to the next dollar. Your participation in this important program will help us keep our commitment to fighting hunger in our community.

FLUORIDE

"Everybody's belly was flat up against their backbone."

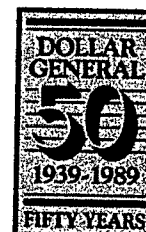

Fifty years ago when Dollar General was founded it was a different America.

We had just come through the Great Depression, a time when, as J. L. Turner once observed, "everybody's belly was flat up against his backbone." J. L. and his son Cal, Sr. founded themselves first as wholesalers in Scottsville, Kentucky in 1939. Both had suffered hard times and knew what it was to need a bargain. Pretty soon their knack for buying smarter and better than anybody else convinced them to go into the retail business themselves — to go direct to the customer. When the first Dollar General store opened people were chasing down the Dollar General trucks trying to find out where to buy the goods.

The Turners' plan was simple — to rent inexpensive space, print their own signs, build their own fixtures, to keep the overhead as low as possible ... just enough to ship the goods and still keep the lights on. For 50 years that plan has enabled Dollar General Stores to remain the lowest priced discount retailer in the business. Other operations have tried to imitate us but nobody's ever been able to beat us overall on price.
